The Late Contest in California
In order to show the nature and strength of the opposition which the Union ticket of California met from the most powerful journals of the party, we publish the Sacramento Union's leading editorial of September 2d,—two days before election No one after reading this article can wonder at the defeat By comparing the Union's estimate of the vote with the figures received by telegraph, its calculations will seem almost prophetic The article we present is but a specimen of those which have been appearing in that influential journal since June last
Drowning men catch at straws When the Gorhamites found that the Union people of this State were determined to resist the frauds practiced upon them by the June Convention in spite of the compact organization of the loyal politicians they sent abroad to Oregon and Nevada for aid and sympathy Sena or Stewart was pressed into their service Governor Woods, of Oregon, came down from the North parson Cox and General Lagrange came from the East—and all these foreign auxiliaries have been stumping the State in the interest of Gorham After subsidizing nearly all the guerrilla interior press—some of whom are, we are told owned by Gorham & Co—they succeeded in capturing by one art or another, the press of Oregon and Nevada, with two honorable exceptions—the Enterprise and Oregonian, and as a last resort, orator Fitch, of Washoe City, was telegraphed to to come over and help a sinking cause The orator responded, and has been making himself quite conspicuous at political demonstrations in San Francisco These are the forces which the Union, Bulletin and Bee have had to combat—these and their malignant libels slanders and sophistries Nor does the list end here Colfax and the Governors of four Eastern States have been appealed to for aid They have responded, and their telegrams have been duly heralded to the people, imploring them to stand by the party, though neither Colfax nor these Governors know anything about the local issues before the people of this State If they did, not one of them could have been persuaded to interfere in behalf of the lobby sharps and corporation kings, who hope, through the election of Gorham, to own this coast and control its political management forever That the reader may better understand the relations between Gorham and those corporations, we refer him to some pertinent queries which we clip from the Bulletin of Saturday evening, and print in another column of this paper The querist intimates that Gorham and Carr were to receive $100,000 for pushing through the bill at the last session of the Legislature appropriating several millions from the State in favor of the Western Pacific Railroad Company, and that Gorham actually did receive $10,000 for the work he accomplished
With all these heterogeneous and variously armed auxiliaries backing the railway phalanx and proclaiming the manifold virtues of the politicians who buy and sell conventions, what has been achieved? From a grand majority of 18,000 they have driveled the Union party away to nothing, so that the strongest counties, with three or four exceptions in the interior, we can count upon defeat as next to a certainty In this county of Sacramento, where Lincoln beat McClellan over 2 400 votes, the most cautious betters are now unwilling to wager a dollar on a plurality for Gorham There are very many wary politicians who think he will come out in the minority In Nevada, where Lincoln's majority was 2,000, no one now protends that Gorham can get over four or five hundred Placer, with her 900 in 1864, is now regarded as nearly neutralized El Dorado, with her 800, is closely reckoned by from 50 to 200 against the Union ticket. Calaveras has sunk from 500 to 100 or nothing, while Tuolumne, Mariposa, Amador, Napa and many other strong Union counties in 1864 are now generally regarded as against the gubernatorial candidate San Francisco gave Lincoln 4,318 majority Gorham's friends would be delighted with the assurance of 1,000, while well posted politicians avow that he will be defeated in that city by from 2,000 to 3,000 votes In the face of these fair and plausible reckonings no man can say that Gorham has anything like a good chance to carry the State In the coast counties and in the far South and North he will hardly be considered in the fight The prospect is that Los Angeles will go against him by 500, that Monterey, San Bernardino, San Diego, Mendocino, Lake, Klamath, Humboldt, Siskiyou, San Mateo and Plumas will all cast their votes against the lobby candidate Sierra, which gave Lincoln 1,112 majority, according to our best advices, has probably been counted on now for more than 250 for Gorham In Amador, where there has been a steady 200 Union majority ever since 1863, we are assured that Gorham will come out minus at least 500; and in the same proportion there have been changes in Alpine and Mono San Joaquin, which has given as high as 500 Union majority, with all the prestige and influence of the Independent to back the king of the lobby, can now hardly be counted on for 100 The fact is, those who undertake to battle against truth and justice always find it steep uphill work, and this is the job the Gorhamites have undertaken They began by insulting the people and slapping them the face They will end by being kicked out in the cold The insolence and rascality of the professional politicians have become unbearable Nowhere have these traits been more manifested than in California The other day a staid and honest citizen of one of the bay counties, being introduced to Gorham, asked, Mr Gorham, will you be good enough to inform me why it is that, though Gen Bidwell had two thirds of the Convention in his favor at its opening you finally got a majority of the delegates?" The king of the lobby was taken aback He had no reply ready, but one of his friends, a man who had recently been "converted" and engaged in preaching, replied for him "I will tell you the reason When Bidwell was approached by them, that and the other delegate with propositions for the preferment of certain parties named he stubbornly declined to entertain them, and declared that he had no bargain to make" The answer was satisfactory all round He who made it was satisfied that because Bidwell would not deal in bribes he was a fool and unfit for Governor but he who heard it was satisfied that the fittest man had been sold, the people cheated out of an honorable candidate and the politicians alone benefitted by his defeat and the fraudulent nomination of another These fellows do not think it at all wrong thus to sell out the people "The State, it is ourselves," say they
Only a few can govern and we are that chosen few" It is about time to rebuke such insolence We rejoice that the hour of stern rebuke is close at hand Let the people assert their rights and keep the Government of the State out of the foul hands stretched out to grasp it

The Chivalry in California
The Marysville Appeal publishes the following article It possesses considerable historic interest and we therefore give it a place
When it was ascertained to a certainty in 1849 that gold was plentiful in California, hundreds of Southern politicians flocked to the embryo State thinking no doubt there was a better opportunity here for the exercise of their talents than in older communities Among the first of this class who came here was William M Gwin, formerly a member of congress from Mississippi He was elected one of the United States Senators from this State and took his seat in Congress when California was admitted into the Union in September 1850 This position entitled him to be considered the leader of the chivalry element in this State until the people got rid of the chivalry in 1861
Although a majority of the politicians were Southern men the great body of the people were of Northern birth Consequently in framing the Constitution of the State slavery was prohibited The chivalry knew very well that if slavery was tolerated in the Constitution it would have been voted down In everything else they had their own way They were as overbearing and haugh

Encouraging Progress.

The energy of the people is digging away at the mountain of public debt, and diminishing its bulk at a rate which is highly satisfactory and encouraging. When the armies were disbanded in 1865 and the extraordinary expenses of the war ended, the amount of the debt less cash in the Treasury was stated at $2,757,803,686 91. On the first of September, 1867, twenty-five months after the above statement was given, the Secretary of the Treasury announced that the total amount of debt outstanding was $2,492,783,365 05; showing a reduction in that period of $265,020,321 86, or almost $11,000,000 per month. The reduction for the past year amounts to $120,000,000, and if it goes on at the present rate the last dollar of national indebtedness will be paid within ten years from to-day.

Considering the unsettled state of affairs in a large part of the country, the fact that the late rebel States are not in a condition to yield any great amount of revenue to the Government, and that the Indian war has been raging during the whole of the two years past necessitating a vast expenditure of money, the diminution of the debt at so steady a rate and by so large a sum affords every reason for encouragement and proves that the payment of the debt, instead of being an impossibility is easily within the compass of our power. There are men now past the age ordinarily allotted to human life, who will live to see the nation clear of the great debt which it incurred in the effort it put forth to perpetuate its existence.

There are those who, for small political purposes, take every opportunity to exaggerate the burdens of the debt, and even to assert that it can never be paid. Unscrupulous newspapers of a partisan character often declare the debt to be twice as large as it really is, and endeavor to lead their readers into a belief that "the party in power" is still piling new heights upon the mountains of debt with no expectation or desire of paying it. Of course intelligent people will not be deceived by these statements; but the readers of this sort of journals are not always of the most intelligent class. This is simply one of the methods whereby men who have designs on place and power play upon the prejudices of the ignorant to accomplish their purposes. Hardly more than a week ago we found an Oregon editor gravely or rather, impudently, arguing that the "Radicals never intended to pay the debt," though they have been paying it at the average rate of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars a day ever since the close of the war. It is the delight of this class of writers to delude those who are so unfortunate as to be their readers into the belief that the debt, under the management of "the party in power," will be a perpetual incumbrance upon the industry of the country,—hoping thereby to produce a discontent which will redound to the advantage of their party. The favorable statements which are made from time to time, showing a steady reduction of the debt, would completely discomfit any set of men less brazen or unscrupulous than they; but observation has shown that these writers will stick at nothing in the shape either of ingenious misstatement or positive falsehood which they think themselves able to turn to party advantage.

Concession not the True Remedy.

That a weak, timid policy toward the South is not the true way to lead to reconciliation has already been demonstrated by experience. Firmness is the only way. The Johnson policy would keep the Southern masses where they were before the rebellion and help the dominant aristocracy of former times to resume its old sway over the Southern country. This was the tendency of things before the Congressional policy was developed and enforced, and the consequence was that the old aristocracy renewed their former insolence, revived their old notions about their natural right to rule in a bold and defiant toward the Government and reassumed all their old airs of lordly importance. But no sooner did Congress manifest an unyielding determination to put the oligarchy down, than all this was changed as by magical transmutation. Southern orators who before had been as fierce as any of the fire-eating chivalry now cried with the typical Uriah Heep in their eyes to show their meekness and humility, and newspapers which, like Bottom, had been imitating the terrible tones of the lion, came down at once to the gentle notes of the "sucking dove." Panegyric upon the "Lost Cause" ceased, and the aristocracy began to talk with respect of Congress and the Northern people. From this it is apparent that that concession is not the true method of allaying this irritation. And from this, the wisdom there is in firmness is clearly shown. There has been more quiet in the South during the last six months than at any other time since the rebellion was quelled. This is due entirely to the efficiency of the remedy prescribed by Congress. Some say that the course pursued is cruel and oppressive; so they have said of every measure which is distasteful to the rebels. Ben Hill, a Georgian, whose idea of constitutional rights and obligations is such that he deemed himself perfectly at liberty to take part in the scheme to overthrow the Government, says that what Congress has done is not constitutional, and that no Southern man of respectability" approves of it. In other words the ex-slaveholding aristocracy do not approve it, for it puts them out of politics entirely. But the policy of Congress is intended to elevate the Southern masses, white and black, and if Ben Hill and his class forever lose their power, so much the greater reason will there be for gratulation. Johnson said in 1865 that this class, being the authors of all our troubles, should be "put down," and this sentiment which was everywhere applauded at the time, is as good now as it was then.

In what State, county or town did Democrats fire guns for a Union victory during the war? Who can tell? Not a Democratic gun was heard in Oregon in exultation at Union victories during those long agonizing years. But they can fire now in honor of a victory won in California by men who, if they dared, would, like themselves, have done the same thing when they heard of Bull Run.

The Victoria Colonist says that "the British Government is treating for the purchase of the State of Maine from the Americans;" and that "Maine is of no use to the United States." Oh!

General Rousseau sailed from New York for the Pacific coast on the steamer of the 31st August.

THE YEAR OF GREAT PLENTY.—The Agricultural Department at Washington reports that there has never before been so favorable a prospect for uniformly good crops, since the establishment of the statistical bureau. The average production of wheat has been five bushels for each individual in the country, but the promise for the present year is about six bushels. The statistical returns for July show an improvement in the condition of winter wheat over last year in every State but Texas, Nebraska and Minnesota, the diminution in the latter case being 4 per cent. The highest improvement is in Ohio, 160 per cent; West Virginia, 78; Georgia, 66; Tennessee, 72; Indiana, 54; Kentucky, 53; Michigan, 35; Vermont, 25; New Jersey, 25; New York, 17. All the States except Vermont, New York and Pennsylvania show an increase of spring wheat on last year. The average of corn is unusually large, and other grains show an improvement over last year, though not so great as in wheat. Other [illegible] generally of July reports show a [illegible] and yield. In fact, the reports re[illegible] except in certain limited [illegible] encouraging and indicate highly [illegible] results for agricultural labor.

"When we were in Washington."

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

From some items in your paper it appears that one of your cotemporaries has been "in Washington," and that while there he learned some important facts relative to the manner in which Gen. Grant was affected by the publication of the emancipation proclamation, viz: That the General would have resigned his position in the army, had it not been for the advice of "Major Dent, his father-in law," and that Major Dent is "an avowed secessionist"—consequently, secessionists are entitled to the credit of Grant's success after that time. Now, Mr Editor, I wish to inform your readers that when "we were in Washington" we saw and became personally acquainted with Major Dent and General Grant, both, and from our acquaintance with the two gentlemen, we are well satisfied that there is not a word of truth in the statement of your cotemporary touching that matter. As to whether Major Dent is a secessionist or not, we do not pretend to say, neither is it a matter of consequence whether he is or not, from the fact that he is a superannuated old man, and General Grant would be as likely to call on his son, a lad of fourteen, now at West Point Academy, for counsel in such an emergency as on Major Dent. Whatever the talents of Major Dent may have been in other days his faculties have now almost failed him, and so far from General Grant consulting him on the subject of the proclamation, there is not one of the thousands who visit the General who would think it worth while to inquire whether the old gentleman is a secessionist or not. Whatever of ability and intellectual strength the old Mayor may have once possessed, the weight of years and the mists of age have so paralyzed and obscured them as to render him wholly incompetent to advise upon any matter of over so small importance, and that General Grant should have been swayed by his advice is too ridiculous to talk about.

While on the subject of Gen. Grant's status, we will furnish your readers with an extract from a private letter received from Hon. E. B. Washburne, a few days since, and we presume no man knows the General better than does Mr. Washburne. Speaking of General Grant, he says, "A better Republican, a truer, more patriotic, conscientious and noble minded man does not live." And no man who is acquainted with the history of our country has any doubts about the character and standing of Elisha B. Washburne, Congressman from the Galena District of Illinois, for the last sixteen years consecutively.

Yours truly,

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

FROM OWYHEE.

We clip the following items from the Avalanche of the 31st of August:

Mr. Hemmenway, one of the owners in the Whisky Mine, was seriously injured last week while working in the tunnel. A blast exploded prematurely, occasioned by a spark produced by using an iron tamping rod. The charge exploded in his face, also, severely burning both of his hands. At first it was feared that his eyesight was entirely destroyed, but now he is able to see with one eye and will probably regain the sight of the other.

On the night of the 26th the store of J. F. Dye & Co., in Silver City, was robbed of between eleven and twelve hundred dollars in cash. The thief or thieves must have been well acquainted with the premises, as the doors, windows, &c., were found locked as usual in the morning. They offer $250 reward for the arrest of the thieves and recovery of the money, but as yet no clue of them has been obtained.

Col. Fogus and party this week discovered a rich gold bearing ledge situated somewhere between Purdy Gulch and the New York mine. The ledge is two and a half feet wide, and free gold is plainly visible all over and through the quartz on the surface.

The farmers in Jordan Valley have mostly finished cutting their hay. They are now busily engaged in stacking and baling it. The hay business will be more profitable this year than last, on account of the supply required at the adjoining military posts, which will be at least four or five hundred tons, and, as the valley will not yield more than eight hundred tons, the remainder will command a fair price.

MINING NEWS.

The shaft on the Whisky ledge is now down thirty seven feet, at the bottom of which the ore has increased in quality, being considerably richer than that which yielded nearly $300 per ton a couple of weeks ago. The casings are three and one-half feet apart, and according to the indications now the boys will have a ledge at least three feet wide of richly paying ore by sinking a few feet further. At present the enterprising owners are running a tunnel on the ledge, which will tap the south side of the shaft at the bottom. Three days ago they had only about seven feet to run to connect with the shaft. When completed the mine will be well ventilated and much better facilities obtained for extracting the ore. We are informed that they intend very soon to take out enough rock to keep a mill crushing. If they do it will add greatly to the shipment of bullion from Owyhee.

The shaft on the Baxter is now eighty-five feet—is well timbered and the ledge is gradually becoming wider, being now about three feet, consisting mostly of a species of decomposed quartz, requiring no blasting and very easily worked. There is quite a large quantity of ore on the dump, which is very much of the same character as the Poorman, being composed of black sulphurets of silver, and in several pieces of the ore we examined specks of gold were plainly visible to the naked eye. It is passing strange that some people will talk about the camp's being "played-out" when such mines of the Baxter are being discovered every few days.

On the Pauper, the shaft is now down sixty-five feet, and we venture to say that the timbering is unsurpassed for beauty and solidity in the camp. There is about eighteen inches of ore resembling that of the Baxter very much, and if the ledge keeps improving as heretofore a hundred feet deep will show a rich mine of at least three feet in width. In a few days we will be able to give the results of the working of several runs of both the Baxter and Pauper ore.

The Woodstock boys have now attained a depth of seventy-five feet on their mine. They are drifting north and south at that depth—have struck an inch vein of water in the north drift and intend to sink to a depth of one hundred feet, rub a level, and stope out. In this mine there is at present about fifteen inches of quartz, consisting of some of the richest gold and silver ore we have seen in Owyhee. We understand that in a few days the Webfoot Mill will commence crushing Woodstock ore.

Everybody is busy about the Poorman mine and several teams are engaged in hauling ore to the mills. In the mine they have recently come upon a large quantity of pure, white, and soft wax-like substance, interspersed with large masses of black sulphurets. The Poorman yet sustains its world-wide reputation of fabulous richness.

Mr. Gove, Superintendent of the Oro Fino, informs us that they have just cleaned up, after crushing eighty tons of ore, amounting in the aggregate to a trifle over $13,000, or about $160 per ton. Mr. Gove also informs that they are enlarging shafts, sinking deeper and getting things in shape so that they can employ many more hands. They will then run more levels and stope out. They will soon take out enough ore to run another mill, and perhaps two more.

MILITARY RESERVATIONS AT SAN FRANCISCO.—The Telegraph says:

"The President has directed that all reservations on the peninsula and islands in the bay of San Francisco be reserved for military purposes." What does that mean? So far as the islands are concerned, we presume the significance is plain enough. Several parties have besought the Secretary of War to abandon the claims to Goat Island and Angel Island as military reservations, so that they might be taken up as public land, open to occupation and pre-emption by citizens. The decision of the President is that the islands shall continue to be held as reservations. So far as reference is made to the peninsula, we infer that the applications made for a reduction of the size of the Presidio reservation, so that settlers would have a chance there, is denied.—Alta.

WOULDN'T RISE.—The Salem Record has the following:

On the night when the Democracy were victorious, glorious and uproarious, as they naturally would be, after what a looker-on denominated their "first great victory since Bull Run," they happened to remember that the American flag was the usual emblem of patriotism in the Northern States, and hastily procuring one, attempted to hoist it. Not being used to handling it of late, the stars became tangled and wrapped in the halyards, and the bunting was hauled down. At the second attempt the halyards broke, and ended that part of the performance. It seems very doubtful if the old flag can turn from its usual course to rejoice at a Union defeat.

Sherman's force averages one man to 15,000 square miles of territory.

Important Notice to Mechanics.—The demand in the city of San Francisco for Ship-Carpenters, Caulkers and Boiler-Makers, is unusually great at the present moment. Competent mechanics will find immediate employment by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, the Oregon, California and Mexican Steamship Company, the California Steam Navigation Company, and the various Ferry Companies.

All the above mentioned companies are making improvements of such magnitude that able-bodied men need not be idle a single day. The present demand for workmen must continue for years to come, as the amount of work actually now contracted for, and in contemplation, will furnish employment for every mechanic on the Pacific coast.

Wages, $3 50 per day, in gold!

Capable men who are now seeking employment in Oregon and the interior towns of California, can obtain regular work here, at the price above given, by asking for it.

Let them come as soon as they choose. They are needed in San Francisco.

The wages of men employed about steamers and ships are always of the highest grade, and men who can do such work have never been known to lack employment.

In all cases where men do overwork, the extra hours are at double pay.

In no place in there so much overwork and nightwork done as in San Francisco, as haste and despatch are the watchwords here, and the companies are ready to pay for such extra work.

San Francisco, August 24, 1867.

Important Notice to Ship-Carpenters, Caulkers and Boiler-Makers.

Brothers, beware of and do not be deceived by the above lying poster, which is gotten up by parties who a few weeks ago threatened that they would flood the market with mechanics, for the purpose of destroying trade organizations and breaking up the eight-hour system.

There is no unusual demand for the above-mentioned class of mechanics. There are, and have been for months, from fifty to one hundred and fifty men idle, who are most anxious to work.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company, California, Oregon and Mexico Steamship Company, California Steam Navigation Company, and the Ferry Companies, are at the present time building two steamboats: one is nearly done; the other will give work to about twenty-five carpenters for three and a half months.

There is but comparatively little repairing done, the P. M. S. S Co's ships having been extensively repaired within the last year.

On the boats now building, $5 per day is being paid, no higher wages being demanded, the $5 50 which is offered in the card being paid for old work and on short jobs.

Capable men in Oregon and the interior towns of California had better remain there, as there are at all times from one fourth to one half more men in the city than can find employment.

The P. M. S. S Co, for the last ten years, have given steady employment to not more than ten Ship-Carpenters; the other two Companies probably as many more; the Ferry Companies not pretending to give steady employment to any number of Carpenters or Caulkers.

Extra work does not amount to five days' work per man a year.

In conclusion, fellow-mechanics, we would say to you, an attempt is being made to destroy all Trade Organizations by the capitalists of this city.

Beware! Do not be deceived by the representations of parties who are ashamed or afraid to give their names.

By order of the Association,

Attest: JOHN F. RANFIELD,
Secretary Journeyman Shipwrights' Association.

BENEFIT TENDERED TO MRS. O'CONNOR AND FAMILY.—The following correspondence will sufficiently explain itself:

HALL OF MULTNOMAH LODGE, No 12, I. O. of G. T.
PORTLAND, Sept 5th, 1867.

To Professor J. P. C. Allsopp—Dear Sir and Bro: At a regular meeting of the above named Lodge, held at their Hall on the evening of the 31st ult., the following resolution was offered and adopted by the Lodge

Resolved, That this Lodge extends an invitation to Prof. J. P. C. Allsopp to deliver a Lecture for the benefit of the widow and family of our late deceased brother Thos. O'Connor.

The undersigned having been appointed a Committee to carry out the above resolution, respectfully submit the same for your consideration, requesting that, in case of acceptance, you will favor us with an early reply, naming time, place, subject, etc.

Fraternally yours in F. H. and C.
JACOB STITZEL,
J. L. McCOWN,
Committee

PORTLAND, Oregon, Sept. 7, 1867

To Messrs. Jacob Stitzel and J. L. McKown, Committee of Multnomah Lodge, No. 12—Dear Bros and Brothers: In reply to your communication of the 5th inst., I beg to state that I cheerfully accept your invitation, and name as the subject of Lecture "Lima and the Limanians," or the "Rough Log of a voyage between San Blas, Mexico, and Callao de Lima, Peru." The time, Tuesday evening, Sept 17, and the place, Odd Fellows Hall. I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Yours, Fraternally in F. H. and C
J. P. C. ALLSOPP.

TIME AND TIDE WAIT FOR NO MAN.—Mr W. T Shanahan, of the Music and Art Gallery, on First street, has our warm thanks for the present of a beautiful picture, framed, in which the artist, with a most happy conceit, illustrates the old adage, "Time and tide wait for no man." In the foreground a painter sits at his easel, so intent upon a sketch of the sea before him, that he seems totally unaware that the tide has risen all around him, bearing off his hat, a scroll, brushes and portfolio, and that he is rapidly being cut off from the shore by the deepening waters between it and the little pile of rocks on which he is seated While the sea seems each moment higher, higher, seizing upon and destroying first one instrument and then another, the artist with a wrapt expression, still plies his brush and gazes upon his sketch as though it were the only material object in the universe. A shepherd who from the rocky recesses of the shore, has discovered the peril in which the forgetfulness of the artist is about to expose him, has come down and, standing far out in the surf, is hallooing with all his might to disturb the fixed attention of the artist and warn him of his danger. It is rare a picture is invented with a happier combination of conceits than this one, though there are many that are more pretentious.

ARRESTED.—Some two or three weeks ago a shot gun, pistol and a lot of clothing were stolen from a room of the California Hotel, and about the same time, three or four hombres who had been stopping about, disappeared. The matter underwent an investigation by the officers, who soon came to the conclusion that a fellow by the name of Hendricks, alias John Brown alias Allison, one of the decamping parties, was concerned in the burglary and robbery. He was traced to Salem, his confederates going to other places. Sheriff Stitzel sent authority to Sheriff Murphy of Marion, to arrest him, and he was taken into custody on Saturday and sent down here on Sunday in charge of W. S. Baker, deputy Sheriff. When arrested he gave his name as Allison, but he now calls himself John Brown, neither of which names belongs to him, probably. He had pawned the stolen pistol at the Western Hotel in Salem, for his board. The shot gun has been found in this city, where one of the thieves had sold it for $10. Brown will have a preliminary examination this morning before Judge Hoffman.

ORGANIZATION OF A COAL COMPANY.—A joint stock company has been organized at Seattle, Washington Territory, with a capital stock of $500,000, for the purpose of working a coal mine near that place. Mr. Geo. H. Whitworth, one of the trustees, has been commissioned to visit Portland and San Francisco for the purpose of procuring assistance from our capitalists. Judging from the facts furnished by the Seattle Intelligencer, our money-eyed men might find far worse investments for their capital. It says: "The coal is admitted to be of a superior quality, and has been in use for some time upon the Sound. The holders of the land upon which the mine is located, and which comprises an area of four hundred and eighty acres, have secured two-fifths of the capital stock of the company. The location of the mine is only a short distance in the interior from the best harbor on Puget Sound, and no difficulty need be apprehended as regards the transportation of coal to the wharves of the city, as ample facilities for that purpose will be provided."

CATHOLIC MISSIONS.—During the year 1866, it will be recollected, several mission posts under the charge of the Catholic were broken up, in consequence of Indian hostilities. Among others was the mission at Wenatchee. Rev Father S. Ouge who recently arrived here by steamer, has received directions from Archbishop Blanchet, to proceed to the Wenatchee to re-build and re-establish the mission at that point, and he will soon leave here for that purpose. he will take with him the necessary laborers, tools and materials for rebuilding. Father St. Ouge is also charged with the location of another mission somewhere about one hundred miles north of the Wenatchee. No particular place is designated in the instructions, Father St. Ouge being left to the exercise of his discretion. At each of these missions, as we understand it, a school will be established for the education of the Indian children.

CONFUCIUS AND THE CHINESE CLASSICS.—This is the title of new book edited and compiled by Rev. A. W. Loomis, and published by A. Roman & Co, San Francisco. Part 1st contains the Chinese history down to the Christian Era, an account of the ancient Empire, and Life of Confucius. Part 2d contains The Four Books—Confucian Analects, The Great Learning, The Doctrine of the Mean, and Mencius. Part 3d consists of Selections from the Writings of Confucius, and Part 4th, an Editorial Review of the Doctrines taught by the Chinese Sages and their influence on the Chinese mind. The book is filled with curious wisdom—proverbs, maxims, poetry, etc.—and forms a volume of ordinary interest, especially to the student in antiquarian lore. Mr. S. J. McCormick has the book for sale.

STEAMSHIP MATTERS.—The chief engineer of the steamship Montana, on her late trip here, informed a friend at ours that Capt. J. R. Kelly, formerly in command of the Montana, will leave New York during this month with the steamship Dacotah. She is to be brought around Cape Horn to run in the Nicaragua line between San Francisco and Nicaragua.....The C. O. and M. Co.'s steamship Oriziaba has been cut down and generally made over and is now as fine a ship as the company owns on this coast. The object in cutting her down was to make her fit for the upper Fraser trade and we understand she will be put on the route to Portland to run during the coming winter.

QUARTZ MILL FOR WARREN'S DIGGINGS.—Mr. A. Leland, who has traveled and prospected quite extensively among the quartz mines of North Idaho, and who has done more than any other man to write them up, has been in town for three or four days on business connected with one or more of the quartz companies of Warren's Diggings. Yesterday he concluded a contract with D. Monasstes for a five stamp quartz mill, which is to be completed as soon as practicable, and shipped up the river in time to be put in operation this season. This will be, we think, the pioneer mill for that portion of the country.

SICKNESS.—A gentleman just down from Salem informs us that a good deal of sickness is prevailing there—some ague and several cases of cholera morbus. He mentions one case which strongly resembled the genuine cholera. We hear of a good many cases of sickness of a similar kind in this city, and neighboring towns The sickness is thought to be owing, in a great measure, to the long continued hot weather and a too free use of green fruits.

A NEW NAME FOR 7 30s.—A rather successful store-goods merchant in the upper Willamette, visited Portland recently, and in conversation with a friend announced that he had abandoned the yard stick. His friend then asked him what he was doing, to which the ready reply was, "Dealing in Sekoortities." "What are they?" was the second interrogation, "Oh, Twenty by Thirties."

A rose by any other name would smell as sweet.

ELECTION AND INSTALLATION.—At a regular meeting of Portland Council No. 1. Degree of Knights Templars, held on the evening of Sept. 9th, 1867, the following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing term: John R. Garrison, W. C.; Jacob Stitzel, S. W.; Arthur Gray, J. W.; Ward S. Stevens, W. S.; Ross Stratin, W. T.; O. Crich, R.; Boyd P. Quivey, W. C.; Ben Morgan, W. G.; N. Burger, W. S.; Wm. Harman, P. W. C.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTER.—The steamer Senator brought down yesterday, from Oregon City, 2,043 qr sks flour, 115 gunnies bacon; 8 boxes eggs, 40 bbl bbls lard and butter, 4 cases merchandise, 1 bale woolen goods, two trunks indse, 1 plane, 30 tins tallow, 1 pkge indse, and a lot of household furniture.

BODY FOUND.—The body of the man who was drowned in the Columbia river at Vancouver, last Wednesday night, by falling overboard from a scow, was recovered on Sunday. It was found floating near the lower dock, some distance below the town. The name of the deceased was Michael Carroll

MASQUERADE BALL.—The Society of B'nai B'rith, at a late regular meeting, resolved to have a masquerade ball on the evening of Monday, October 21st A special Committee of the Society have the arrangements in charge and have secured the use of Oro Fino Hall for the occasion.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, JUSTICE.—In this court, yesterday, the order setting the case of Fields vs Heirs of D. H. Lownsdale for trial on Monday the 16th, was vacated and the case set for trial to-day. No other business was transacted

SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS.—The Record says the school land commissioners started down yesterday morning to Oregon City, for the purpose of holding the school land sales for Clackamas county. We suppose the sale will take place to-day.

TO SAIL.—The steamer Fideliter, Capt. Erskine, is advertised to sail for Victoria to-morrow at 7 o'clock P. M.

LOOK OUT FOR DARMAN BROS.' FALL STYLES, which will arrive on steamer Oriflamme, due to-morrow evening.

"FAMILY DYE COLORS."—The most useful and welcome articles found in almost every household in the land, are the FAMILY DYE COLORS of Howe & Stevens. They can always be relied upon, are easily used, and cost but a trifle. Sold by Smith & Davis.

FROM PEN D'OREILLE.

H. A. Hogue communicates the following to the Dalles paper. The letter is dated August 30:

The boat has just come down with Jennings and all the Miller crowd, (the party of prospectors who have been in the country all summer and who are the discoverers of the new mines) the Indians having run them out. Herring, Allen, Moore, and a person generally known as Molly McGuire, who went down after supplies, were all killed while returning to their diggings. The Miller party are going to return as soon as they can procure arms and ammunition. They say the diggings are rich and extensive and that they are not going to let the Indians run them out. Thompson was with this party, but became separated and was six days without anything to eat excepting berries. The boys are all excited about Lo! The Pen d'Oreilles and Kootenais are the Indians supposed to have committed these murders. Herring and party are supposed to have been killed while in bed. Miller and his party, being on short allowance, had started out to meet Herring and party, and on the morning of the 14th, just before daylight, Miller's party heard firing in the direction they expected to meet Herring with the provisions, and before they could pack up they were attacked themselves and obliged to flee for their own safety. Herring's large New Foundland dog came into the Prairie this morning severely wounded. There is no doubt but that Herring and his party have been killed. It is pretty good evidence of the truth in regard to the richness of these mines, that the rest of the men are going back as soon as they can get a party that they think will be safe. The location will no longer be kept a secret.

The Ireman and watchman of the Mary Moody both started from the new mines on the 26th. Six men crossed over to Kootenai Sunday morning. There is nobody left on the Spokane scarcely. Fifteen men started out on Tuesday to look for Herring and party. The Indian alarm is increasing.

WOMEN DOING MEN'S WORK.—There is one place where the women have the privilege of doing men's work, and rather the heaviest part of it too. It is in the Island of Lewis, one of the Hebrides, and this account is given:

The women do all the heavy work. They dig, delve and hoe; they carry heavy loads of manure to the fields, and in the past season you may see them all day carrying creelfuls of peat from the bog. You will often see a man trudging along the road beside a woman, but the creel is always on the woman's back. If they come to a river or ford, the woman crosses first, deposits her creel on the bank and then returns to carry the man across. I only saw this once, but the farmers tell me it is a thing of every day occurrence. When the creel is empty, the man sometimes slings it over his own shoulders, and then mounts upon the back of the woman, who carries them both across together. This, I am told, is the only occasion on which, by any chance, you see a creel on the back of a man. The woman in the rural districts here is, in fact, a beast of burden, and men, in looking out for wives, look largely to muscular development. A story is current among the English-speaking farmers that illustrates the conception of woman's mission. In the middle of one peat season, when labor was much in demand, a man who was supposed to be a confirmed old bachelor, suddenly married. A friend met him some days after. "What for did you take a woman like that?" said the friend. "Did you not hear," replied the man, "that my horse was dead?"

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.
Travelers are always liable to sudden attacks of dysentery and cholera morbus, and these occurring when absent from home are very unpleasant. PERRY DAVIS VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER may always be relied upon in such cases. As soon as you feel the symptoms, take one teaspoonful in a gill of new milk and molasses, and a gill of hot water. Stir well together and drink hot. Repeat the dose every hour until relieved If the pains be severe, bathe the bowels and back with the medicine, clear.
Fishermen, so often exposed to hurts by having their skin pierced with hooks and fins of fish, can be much relieved by bathing with a little Pain Killer as soon as the accident occurs, in this way the anguish is soon abated; bathe as often as once in five minutes, say three or four times, and you will seldom have any trouble. NASBY.

THE NEGRO BEING FOUND NOT AVAILABLE, MR. NASBY AND HIS FOLLOWERS DECIDE TO GO BACK ON HIM.

POST OFFIS, CONFEDRIT X ROADS,
(wich is in the Stait uv Kentucky,)
July 29, 1867.

The speculashen in wool, into wich the Dimocrisy uv the South embarkt some months ago, has I regret to say, resulted disasstrously. The nigger ain't fitted for co-operashun with the Dimocrisy. Instid uv hangin onto us like the ivy onto the oak, he diskivered that in the South at least he wuz really the oak and we the ivy, instid uv lookin up to us, he contracted a disagreeable habit uv lookin down onto us. There wus other reasons why he couldn't be made available for uses, and therefore it wus decided to go back onto the Afrikin, and to agin attempt his reduckion to as near his normal spheer as the abnormal condishun uv the times would admit. The directors uv the colledge met and changed the name uv the institooshen back to the "Southern Military and Classikal Institoot," and the corners wuz itself agin.

Deakin Pogram lookt on the ten years hed blitzed if him. "How pleasant 'tis," sed he, "to walk erect agin in front uv a nigger, and to pass on as the they was niggers! Oh ef I cood only wallop one wunst more, methinks that I cood die happy!"

We had a meetin last nite to consider this nigger question, which hev resulted in great good and had a powerful influence toward strengthenin the hands uv our brethren in the North, who are fightin the heresy uv nigger suffrage, hed it not bin for that irritashen, Pollock, and that pest, Joe Bigler. I had made my regler speech on the nigger and with much effect. I had quoted from Wendy's publishun from Agassiz, wich demonstrated the radicle difference there is atween the Afrikin and the proud Caucashun, arguin from the length of his heel and arm; the thickness uv the skull and so forth, that the nigger was totally unfit to exercise the rites uv free men. I wuz spravd-d vociferously, and by none more than Pollock and Joe Bigler. As I took my seat and wuz a-wipin the perspirashun from my classikle brow, Sheba that I hed settled that question, Pollock rose and desired to say a few words and make a suggestion. Sed he:

"I hev listened with interest to the elokent speecher, and am happy to say I hev learned fax which is new to me. Ef I hev ever doubted the inferiority uv the nigger, them doubts are removed, and I feel, also, that the statements uv the speaker is true, or wich I hev no doubt, as the character uv the speaker is a sufficient guarantee for the truth uv whatsoever he sez."

I knu-- what stately like, with the air uv one to wich compliments wus a every day affair, but they stut by no means, on the contrary, quite elevated.

"But I want it demonstrated to the satisfaction uv the most obtuse. I want rite here a measurement uv the average Afrikin and the average white man, that all the world may know the difference. Amoss that it be did."

I sed "Let it be done," sed I, "that the vexed question may be settled forever."

Several regrets were askt to submit to the ordeal, but all refused. Finally Joe Bigler and he saw Napoleon J Anson, a nigger wich at present belonged to Deakin Pogram, in the auditorium. "Napoleon," sed he, "will you contribute yourself to the great science uv ethnology? Also you willin to let us prove you to demonstrate the grate and gramin truth that yoor grandfather was a monkey? Step up, Napoleon."

Napoleon, nothing loth, stept up, and Pollock, Joe Bigler and I measured him with the following result:

[illegible]	5 feet 8 inches.
[illegible]	140 lbs averdupois.
[illegible] foot	12 inches.
[illegible] foot	5 inches.
[illegible] ar head	8½ inches.
[illegible] ar hand	4 inches.
[illegible] ar arm	11 inches.
[illegible] ar bone from ankle to knee	16 inches.
[illegible] ar bone	4 inches.
[illegible] stay about wich let the top of [illegible] ar the forehead come, so to [illegible] amount to 11 specimens, a [illegible] scientific check and Hon. [illegible] ar thus a very important [illegible] bone for purity wich all ar the [illegible]	66 cubic inches

"Ah," sed Pollock, let us examine in the [illegible] way a average specimen uv a Caucashen and he to be found in this delectable spot. Will the Doctor be good enuf to step forrerd? I [illegible] demonstrate the superiority uv the [illegible] with a two foot rool. Ef figgers won't [illegible] up, I [illegible]

The Doctor stepped up and wus measured [illegible] result

[illegible] head	inches
[illegible] nose	inches
[illegible] foot	inches
[illegible] ar foot	inches
[illegible] ar arm	inches
[illegible] ar bone from ankle to knee	inches
[illegible] ar skull	cubic inches

"Ah," sed he, "it is [illegible] that shall Izaker has a shorter hand, a less head a shorter and narrower foot, and less projects less than the nigger's by one-half inches! Gentlemen, I feel how I hev [illegible]! What errers I hev bin musslin [illegible] am I at last [illegible] not rite on the right plain."

Unanimously [illegible] it was.

"I too," sed he [illegible] but the nigger is not nat ve w [illegible] I opused him in exercise it was [illegible] I hold firm when the measurement uv his hand and arms wus bein made, but they staggered me. Reckonin that no one has a hev intellieck till he can't set in his feet better than that. I [illegible] this sweet gashun. Hevin now a fact a heel as I may say to stand on—one as to prove the inferiority uv the nigger. With that heel for a fulcrum, I shel, with [illegible] uv breath, proceed to upset the fabric uv [illegible] and carry it off whoa into Boston. [illegible] that Napoleon was a average specimen [illegible] low or uninteligent uv Afriken type. Is [illegible]

"Is it is!" yelled we all, delited at the way [illegible] the thing wus takin.

"I shel also assoom that Izaker Gavitt is a [illegible] uv the higher or intellectual Caucashen [illegible] is me!"

"Why certainly!"

"Very well. Now Quake, Massachoosets. Naw [illegible] you read!"

I saw the trap into which he had fallen, and [illegible] silently protested that the examinashen hed [illegible] far enuff and so did Deakin Pogram, [illegible] swore but he wuz again to kiver up [illegible] tracks with shame, and I got down par-[illegible]

"Kin you read Napoleon?"

"Yes, sah!"

"Read this, then," sed Bigler, handin him a [illegible]

The nigger read as peert as a Noo England [illegible] marm, wich well he mite, as he learned it [illegible] um uv um.

"Kin you write?"

"Certainly," and takin a pencil he writ half uv the Declarashen uv Independence.

"Set down Napoleon. It's a devilish pity your [illegible] are so long, otherwise yood be credited with [illegible] intellek. Now, Izaaker, my bold Caucashen [illegible] kin you read?"

"I protest," shrieked I, in agony. "Izaaker, don't answer the skoffer at ethnology!"

But Izaaker, as white or a sheet, and trembling under the eye uv Bigler, who knowd him from infancy scattered out, "No!"

"Kin you write, my gay descendant uv the sunnier race?"

And, still under the influence uv Bigler's eye, he answered, "No."

Kin you cipher?"

"What in thunder's the yoose uv ciperin when the old man allus kep a nigger to do his figgerin?"

"Set down Izaaker. We're done with you. There's an error somewher. Thanigger's capassity uv skull is less by several cubic inches, but he seems to her used wat he has lively. But it's all rite Parson. Izaaker shal vote; and the nigger shan't. Reedin and writin never wuz a qualifikashen for votin down here, any way. Possibly the seat uv the intellek is in the heel instead uv the brain which accounts for the nigger's havin the most uv it."

And Pollock and Bigler, and the niggers present, left the meetin house, laffin uproariously, and throwin all sorts uv odors back to us.

I doubt whether the result uv the investigashen will be pour friends North. The fact is, it wuz overdone. It was carried too fur. There is a p'int at which facts ought to stop—Dimokratic facts in partikeler. In this instance the investigashen should never hin carried beyond the heel. Had it stopt there, we wood hev had em. But carryin it to the radical p'int Bigler and Pollock took it, the foundashen we built was upset, and we were all at sea agin. Wood, oh! wood that we wuz rid uv these jerring fanatics.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, P. M.
(Wich is Postmaster.)

Laura Keene has presented to Mrs. Tilton, at Springfield (Ill) a piece of the dress she wore on the night of President Lincoln's assassination. It was stained with the blood that flowed from the President's head while she was ministering to him in Ford's at the theatre, after he had received the fatal shot. The relic is framed and suspended in Mr. Lincoln's late residence at Springfield.

Ohio.

General Hayes, Union candidate for Governor of Ohio, in his opening speech of the campaign, thus explained the principles and purposes of the Union party:

The Union party believes that the general welfare requires that measures should be adopted which will work great changes in the South. Our adversaries are accustomed to talk of the rebellion as an affair which began when the rebels attacked Fort Sumter in 1861, and which ended when Lee surrendered to Grant in 1865. It is true that the attempt by force of arms to destroy the United States began and ended during the administration of Lincoln. But the causes, the principles, and the motives which produced the rebellion, are of an older date than the generation which suffered from the fruit they bore, and their influence and power are likely to last long after that generation passes away. Ever since armed rebellion failed, a large party in the South have struggled to make participation in the rebellion honorable, and loyalty to the Union dishonorable. The lost cause with them is the honored cause. In treason is the test of merit, the passport to preferment. They wish to return to the old state of things—an oligarchy of race, and the sovereignty of the States.

To defeat this purpose, to secure the rights of man, and to perpetuate the national Union, are the objects of the Congressional plan of reconstruction. That plan has the hearty support of the great Generals (so far as their opinions are known)—of Grant, of Thomas, of Sheridan, of Rosecrans, of Howard—who led the armies of the Union which conquered the rebellion. The statesmen most trusted by Lincoln and by the loyal people of the country during the war also support it. The Supreme Court of the United States, upon formal application and solemn argument, refuse to interfere with its execution. The loyal press of the country, which did so much in the time of need to uphold the patriot cause, without exception, are in favor of the plan.

In the South, as we have seen, the lessons of the war, and the events occurring since the war, have made converts of thousands of the bravest and of the ablest of those who opposed the national cause. General Longstreet, a soldier second to no living corps commander of the rebel army, calls it "a peace offering," and advises the South in good faith to organize under it. Unrepentant rebels and unconverted peace Democrats oppose it just as they opposed the measures which destroyed slavery and saved the nation.

Removal of General Sheridan.

[From the New Orleans Bee, August 6th.]

To us the removal of General Sheridan can make very little difference. It is like the murder of a resident—one passes off the stage and another comes on; the same work continues, and the oppressed gain nothing, but add to their sufferings the general horror of the deed. The radicals have made up their minds to take possession of the Southern State Governments and run them in their own way. The end will be reached before we find peace, and what matters it whether it is done in the rapid, bold style of Sheridan, or brought about little by little as in the case of some other commanders. General Sheridan sees the work that he has to do and does it promptly. That much is decidedly in his favor; and we see no reason for blaming him for the removal of officials elected by the people and the substitution of radicals. Congress expects him to do it, and to put only such men in power as are willing to give their aid and influence, and that of the offices they hold to the advancement of the Radical party. For this, then, we must blame Congress and not Sheridan. And we cannot deny that some of the appointments he has made are acceptable to our people. It would be a great misfortune if Governor Wells were reinstated after Sheridan's removal, and our citizens feel it, if they were frank enough to say it. In that case and others General Sheridan has been sustained by popular opinion here, though only in his selections, and not in his overruling the civil authority.

But in special pleading to go into these particulars. The general facts are before us that a military commander is sent here to perform the will of Congress. He has carried out his instructions, but with the rapidity of a cavalry officer, and has shocked the more conservative portion of his countrymen by the rapidity of the progress made toward radicalizing the South. But with any other man it was only a question of time, and it may as well come now as later. Should General Hancock or General Meade be appointed successor to him, the work which Congress has marked out will still go on, until the people of the South lose by what cabal or faction the country is now ruled, and interpose their power. We may blame the General for being too ready to carry out the Congressional measures, and for displaying too much alacrity in its service, but at the same time no man believes that he is acting contrary to orders, or that Congress will fail to sustain him when it reassembles. It is very probable, also, that he will be ordered back again immediately, thus putting a greater indignity upon the President, and giving Sheridan an excuse for more stringent measures if he pleases.

J. H. UPTON & A. NOLTNER, Proprietors

ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1867, A LARGE SIZE WEEKLY PAPER, with the above title, will be issued at SALEM, OREGON.

The CHRONICLE will be devoted to Politics, News, and the development of the varied resources of the State In politics the CHRONICLE will be unhesitatingly Democratic, supporting and advocating all those reforms in National and State policy, so urgently demanded at the present time by every consideration involving the weal of the American people. The necessity for a Democratic organ firmly planted at the Capital, will be at once apparent to every thinking Democrat in the State. Such a one we propose to make the CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE, and with the State thoroughly Democratic to-day, with all prospective changes in favor of that party, there is no valid reason why the enterprise shall not prove a complete success.

While the CHRONICLE will devote ample space to the discussion of political topics, the News of the day, the Agricultural, Mining, Mechanical and Manufacturing interests of the State at large will receive due attention. A twenty eight column paper, 26x38 inches in size, will furnish ample space and enable us to present in each number an amount of reading matter equal to the importance of the interests involved. We only ask at the hands of the people that legitimate patronage which shall enable us to present a sheet in every way creditable to ourselves and the State—one which none may have the least reason to be ashamed of.
